From The East Worshipful John Weldon

Fall has begun and we are coming to the end of our Masonic year for 2020 at Clearwater Lodge. Coming out of the darkness we have had a lot of things happening at our Lodge. For instance, there are several Brothers who are in the process of forming a DeMolay Chapter which will teach young boys how to become good citizens and future Masons. This will be a great benefit for our Lodge.

We have purchased a commercial dishwasher and should be installed by the time you read this newsletter. What a huge asset for the kitchen and the Lodge. We can hold more events such as: fundraisers, meetings, and possibly some public gatherings for rent. I would like to say thank you to our SW Shaun Imbody for locating this equipment and purchasing it under budget.

On Saturday, Sept 12th, The Junior Grand Warden took place and the event was very successful. Everyone enjoyed the fellowship, good food, and Masonic Brotherhood. I congratulate RW Junior Grand Warden Glen Bishop and look forward to supporting him in all his endeavors.

We have had breakfast on 2 Saturdays so far and because of the road construction there hasn't been the participation that we anticipated. Until the road is complete we will probably be experiencing this. I hope to see the road completed by the middle of October, but things have moved very slow.

The OES has been given the approval to start their monthly meetings again. The White Shrine had their installation of Officers on Saturday, Sept 19th and they are now starting their monthly meetings. You can see the activities are slowly beginning to happen at our Lodge. There will be a Masonic Leadership Class October 10th from 9-12. I encourage all who need this training to please try to attend. On Tuesday, October 13th, we will be having our scheduled DDGM visit and I hope as many as are able can attend this special meeting.

Please add these events to your calendars and I hope we can have a good turnout in support of our Brothers.

From The West

W.: Shaun Imbody, Sr. Warden

As we rapidly approach the end of the year, we are diligently planning for 2021. I am currently meeting with Ryan Tindol, who will presumably be my Senior Warden to plan for next year's budget. If you have budgetary wishes or concerns for the coming year, now is the time to express them. We will be happy to entertain any new ideas, but new dishes and decor for the Great Hall are among our top concerns. I am also working with Clifford Wright, who I anticipate to be my Junior Warden, to establish the calendar for next year. We plan to include two stag events, a widow's banquet, as well as two or three family/holiday cookouts. We will also be focusing on fund-raising events because in just over two years, Clearwater will likely be the home lodge of the Grand Master. (During Cliff's year) Again, please let us know if you have ideas you would like to incorporate. Farran and Lou have agreed to serve as Secretary and Treasurer and if elected WM, I intend to appoint David Nagle and John Morgado as my Deacons. Our current WM, John Weldon has agreed to serve as my Marshall and I intend to appoint Michael Jackson as Steward. W.: Mark LeMacher has agreed to continue to serve as Musician. I am still in need of a Chaplain for next year, so please let me know if you have an interest. The entire line is excited and energized and ready to embrace the challenges of the upcoming years. Your ENTIRE LINE, including Master, Wardens, Deacons and Stewards, Secretary and Treasurer, are currently ALL going through the Grand Lodge's Masonic Leadership Training course together. The future looks bright, my Brothers!!!

Fraternally,

Balloting

Balloting for initiation, Passing, Raising, and membership must be unanimous; but when only one black cube appears, the ballot should be spread again to guard against mistakes; but if a black cube appears on the second ballot it is final, as it shall be when two or more black cubes appear on the first ballot. All balloting must be done in a Master Mason Lodge, and at Stated Communications. None but members of the Lodge have a right to ballot, and no member present can be excused from balloting on any question before the Lodge, except by a vote of the Lodge, upon good cause shown; nor can a member be permitted to retire from the Lodge to avoid casting his ballot. A negative vote cannot be withdrawn, and thereby leave a constructive clear ballot, for no Degree can be conferred until after an actual clear ballot. The secrecy of the ballot should never be violated. If a Mason ascertains by accident, or otherwise, how a particular Brother has voted, he has no right to divulge it. As a general rule it is reprehensible for a Brother to proclaim how he voted.

Louis Imbody

It is really great to be back together again in our Stated Meetings. So many things happening, we can inundate you with all of what is going on, but I'm sure my fellow officers will be filling you in on all of these things happenings. The excitement and atmosphere in our Lodge is amazing. You need to come and get involved and bring another Brother with you. You need to bring a friend to our breakfasts and dinners, helping us grow our membership. The Masonic Education being provided by our SW, Shaun Imbody, interesting, informative, and sometimes challenging. Please plan to attend and see for yourself.

Just in case my fellow officers miss something, her are just a few new happenings:

1. New automatic dishwasher purchased for the kitchen. Hopefully, it is installed by the time you read this article.
2. Our lawn is looking the best it has ever has thanks to Brother Michael Jackson. Michael is also working on a beautification project around our perimeter. Please come and check it out.
3. We are scheduling more informative speakers for our Stated Meetings.
4. Our Officers are planning to attend other Degrees at other Lodges and increase awareness in our community.
5. Masonic Leadership Training started September 26th and will be continuing on Oct 10th here at Clearwater and then Oct 24th at Northside Lodge or Oct 31st here at Clearwater. Please plan on attending and learning more about Masonry.

Regarding our finances, we had to transfer $5000 from our Money Market into our checking as we have had little in fundraising over the last six months. Your Finance Committee happily ordered our investmtns with Stifle to be converted to cash. This was done just before the Market tanked with the news of RBG's death. Thus, saving a loss in funds.

So things are moving and shaking. Let's get involved!

From The Secretary

Farran Bognar

I'm feeling the affects of not having any functions for five months. It's almost feels like everyone is trying to catch up in one month. We had our first Stated Meeting, a Blood Drive, two breakfasts, the JGW Homecoming, White Shrine Installation, Open Books....Just to name a few and the month still isn't over.

Something that has to be brought up is the matter of dues. Brothers, the time is getting near for that time of the year that I don't relish, and that is, SUSPENSION. Please take a moment to look at your dues card and make sure it is for 2020. If not, then you will be receiving a letter from me for a Summons to appear before the Craft to explain why you shouldn't be suspended for Non-Payment of Dues. I understand that these are tough economic times and some of you cannot afford to pay your dues, we have ways of dealing with that, if you just contact us. We don't want anyone to lose their time in Masonry because they are having a problem paying their dues. I would like to see zero suspensions for this year.

I have 11 Petitions out to individuals that are thinking about joining our great Fraternity and I would be happy getting just half of those back. I'm asking each Brother to carry a Petition on with them in case they are asked about joining Masonry. I will put some Petitions on the table in front of the bulletin board. Please take one, or more, and keep them handy.

If you come across someone who owns a business and would like to advertise with their business card in our Trestleboard and Placemats the cost is $100 donation per card per year.

From the Junior Deacon

Clifford Wright

Integrity, as defined by the dictionary, is “the quality of being honest or having strong moral principles.” Masons with integrity are generally known to be trustworthy, honest, and kind. This is a quality that Masons should strive for.

Additionally, Masons should also strive to surround themselves with people who have true integrity. Integrity isn’t something that can be faked, but there are some ways to tell that someone has real integrity and are not faking it. Observe the following:

1. TAKING RESPONSIBILITY FOR THEIR ACTIONS

Be accountable for your decisions and actions. Accept the consequences of your choices.

2. PUTTING OTHERS’ NEEDS ABOVE THEIR OWN

A Mason with true integrity is only interested in doing the right thing and does so without expectation.

3. OFFERING TO HELP OTHERS IN NEED

A Mason with true integrity will be found helping those in need and does so without expectation.

4. GIVING OTHERS THE BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT

A Mason will engage his reasoning mind and will give others the chance to explain themselves and move forward considering those other points of view. He listens to learn, not to respond.

5. CHOOSING HONESTY IN ALL THINGS

Integrity means being honest and accountable. A Mason with true integrity will live this quality every day.

6. SHOWING RESPECT TO EVERYONE

A Mason with true integrity knows that everyone deserves respect and deserves to be treated like a human being.

7. MANIFESTING HUMILITY

A Mason with integrity will be proud of his accomplishments, but they will, at the same time, remain humble. Their actions speak louder than any praise they may shower upon themselves.

8. BEING ABLE TO ADMIT THEY’RE WRONG

A Mason with true integrity has no problem admitting when they are wrong, or when they made a mistake. They are the first to stop, admit their mistakes, and apologize if need be.

9. SHOWING REGULAR RELIABILITY

A person with true integrity will always show up to an obligation. Integrity is all about being the best person you can be, and reliability is part of that.

10. CONVEYING TRUE KINDNESS

A Mason with integrity is kind. He will not say something nice to your face and something cruel to your back.

Integrity is a trait that Masons should strive for and is a path rarely trodden. Masons with true integrity do these things because it is the right thing – not to be praised for their integrity! That is part of the beauty of someone who lives a life of integrity.

Cont’

6. You’re sitting while a brother is working

Almost every lodge has the three or four guys who do all the work. They do the cooking and the dishes. They’re the ones who show up with a truck when some one puts out the signal for help. If you’re not that guy, and you can’t name the three or four guys in your lodge who are, you’ve probably already tired them out. They’re done and have moved on. And that’s when a lodge starts dying.

7. You’re in the weeds, and you’re not asking for help

It may be kind of fun to curse your lazy brethren and seethe when you have cooked for the lodge and done the dishes. You feel you are up to your knees alone in Masonic chores. At this point, do yourself and everyone else a favor by asking for help. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; Knock, and the kitchen door shall be opened and others will be ready to come in and help!

8. There’s a brother you’re not talking to

My mentor, on the day I met him, told me that your Masonic family is like your actual family. You love them all, but that doesn’t mean you will always like them all. If there is a brother who is not talking to you or to whom you are not speaking, break the ice by talking to that brother on the level, on the plumb, on the square.

9. You’re talking unkindly about a brother who is out of earshot

Gossip is human nature but can be very destructive. Even if you do not start with bad intentions and rationalize that you’re being constructive, I caution you to tread lightly. Idle gossip groups holds the door open, letting in his pals: cliquishness, plotting, and disharmony.

10. It never hurts

Let me be clear: all of us do the above things sometimes. I’ve done all of them, I still do some of them, and between writing and publishing this article I will have done them. No Mason is a perfect ashlar. If this truth hurts, remember a quote attributed to Alexis Carrel, written as if for Masons: “Man cannot remake himself without suffering, for he is both the marble and the sculptor.”

10 Signs You’re Doing It Wrong

You might like to think you’re worthy of this Masonic institution and that you’re doing things correctly. Yet, is this really the case? You could have “Grand” in front of every title you’ve earned in the Craft, and yet your day-to-day fraternal interactions could be poisoning your lodge and brothers. Here are 10 signs that you might be contributing to a downward trajectory in your lodge:

1. You’re sitting alone

I myself am an introvert, so I understand the appeal of sitting on a distant couch or in a darkened corner and scrolling the iPhone while the lodge brothers are whooping it up some distance away. Introverts often like to remain quiet and or enjoy the company of one or two close friends, as they might be simply overwhelmed and exhausted by interaction. While understandable, this is nonetheless a disservice to you and your brethren.

2. You’re with the same two guys

Avoid the appearance of cliques and cabals. There will always be some who are more than brothers; they’re personal friends whose company you enjoy. Yet, don’t ignore the other guys, conversing with your own set too deeply or too long. Remember this by-word: “Your brothers are your business, because we’re in the business of brotherhood.

3. You come and go without a handshake

Life is busy, and we don’t like interruptions going from A to B. Yet Freemasonry is supposed to be an interruption to let you pause, breathe, and take stock of who you are.

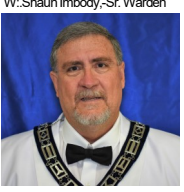

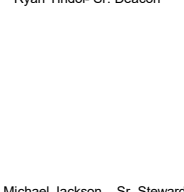

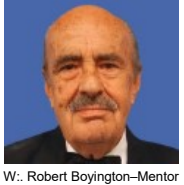

4. You give the ol “No Look Pass”

Everyone’s done it. You feel the pat on the arm and see a palm out of the corner or your eye. You grab the hand and shake without even breaking the stride of your conversation. The handshake was historical for “I’m not going to kill you right now,” and eventually came to signify, “I’m glad you’re here, because I trust you.” Face your brother, hold your hand out, grip, and look your interlocutor in the eye.

5. You go from meeting to car to home

For a lot of us, lodge night is our one night out of the house. Let’s live it up and enjoy Craft fellowship
